

Weekly Performance Report — July 2026

Reporting Period: July 1, 2026 – July 7, 2026

This report outlines the weekly performance metrics across our primary paid acquisition channels: Meta Ads and Google Ads. Overall, both channels maintained stable Cost Per Acquisition (CPA) while scaling spend.

Meta Ads Performance

Campaigns on Meta were optimized for conversions this week, focusing on lookalike audiences and retargeting.

Metric	Value	WoW Change
Total Spend	$4,250.00	+5.2%
Impressions	312,500	+8.1%
Clicks	4,680	+4.3%
Click-Through Rate (CTR)	1.50%	-0.05%
Conversions	185	+6.5%
Cost Per Acquisition (CPA)	$22.97	-1.2%
Return on Ad Spend (ROAS)	2.8x	+0.1x

Google Ads Performance

Google Ads performance remained strong, driven by high-intent search queries and stable CPCs on core brand terms.

Metric	Value	WoW Change
Total Spend	$5,800.00	+2.1%
Impressions	145,200	+1.8%
Clicks	8,100	+3.5%
Click-Through Rate (CTR)	5.58%	+0.12%
Conversions	240	+4.0%
Cost Per Acquisition (CPA)	$24.16	-1.8%
Return on Ad Spend (ROAS)	3.2x	+0.2x

Key Takeaways

- Meta Ads: Scaling spend by 5.2% resulted in a proportional increase in conversions without hurting our CPA, which decreased by 1.2%.
- Google Ads: CTR improved significantly on search campaigns, driving more efficient traffic and boosting our ROAS to 3.2x.